

Undergraduate tuition fees 2018-19

Subject to Government confirmation, the tuition fees on this page are for new and continuing undergraduate Home and EU students. Further information is available below.

If you commenced your programme before September 2012, you may be eligible for a lower fee. Please contact Student Finance (www.gre.ac.uk/finance/contact) for further information.

Fees for Medway School of Pharmacy students are available on the MSP website (www.msp.ac.uk/studying/fees-and-finance.html).

The rates above, applicable to continuing students, are subject to ratification at Finance Committee.

The university reserves the right to charge for any additional courses or credits and amend the fee due were necessary after you have completed online registration. Important information on tuition fee charging and tuition fee rates is available at the bottom of this page.

Please note

- All full-time fees quoted are based on a standard 120-credit programme of study, unless stated otherwise.
- For full-time undergraduates, the fees shown are the current annual fee unless otherwise stated.
- The part-time fees above only apply to students assessed to pay tuition fees at the Home and EU rate. For part-time students the maximum number of credits that can be studied in an academic year is 90.
- All Fees above are subject to an annual fee setting exercise and will rise annually in line with the RPI-X (Retail Price Index excluding mortgage interest payments) subject to the maximum regulated fee rates set by the UK Government. For example if a student was paying a fee of £5,000 in 2016/17 and RPI –X was 2.8% this fee would have risen by 2.8% to £5,140 in 2017-18. This does not apply to students studying in the Medway School of Pharmacy, see below.
- For Home and EU undergraduate students in the Medway School of Pharmacy assessed as paying fees at the home rate, tuition fees are subject to an annual fee setting exercise and will rise annually by no more than RPI +3% except where regulated. Where fees are regulated (such as by the Department for Education or Research Council UK) they will be increased by an amount up to the permitted increase. The Government have not yet confirmed the permitted fee increase for 2018/19 UK/EU fee paying undergraduates.

- A significant number of our undergraduate programmes for Home/EU students are charged at the current maximum allowed fee of £9,250 and thus there will be no increase for continuing students if this maximum rate continues at this level. We would only consider an increase to the fee rate for new and continuing students if the government were to make changes to increase the maximum variable fee rate above the current £9,250.
- We are currently waiting for the Government to confirm the maximum fee cap and permitted increases for 2018/19. Therefore if this figure is different to the rates advised above, for example we are permitted to charge a higher rate of fee in 2018/19 to new entrants and continuing students, then these pages will be updated accordingly.
- We would only consider an increase to the fee rate for continuing students to reflect the increased cost of delivering the programme in subsequent years.
- Fees above are subject to the university's Charging and Refund Policy (www.gre.ac.uk/fees/policy).
- Students categorised as studying for an equivalent or lower qualification (ELQ) (www.gre.ac.uk/elq) may be charged a tuition fee rate that is higher than the standard published rates.
- * Students who are assessed as International fee payers undertaking Erasmus+ or Study Abroad are not eligible for a tuition fee reduction and will pay the usual rate of fee for their programme of study. Further information on Erasmus+ and Study Abroad is available on our Erasmus+ information for outgoing students.
